AMUSEMENTS.

"LONDON ASSUBANCE" AT WALLACK'S THEATRE. Whether Mr. Boucicault is the absolute author of "London Assurance" is a disputed point. Mr. John Brougham claims, and his word is quite as good as that of any one, a share in the authorship. But it makes difference who wrote this capital comedy, one of the original creations of the century. The play is so well known that to criticise be a superfluous task. The acting of this famous drama is the point of chief interest to the theatrical public. It reintroduced Mr. John Gilbert as Sir Harcourt Courtly, and probably he made the so used to see Mr. Gibert play trascible old men that the rôle of the dignified, honorable, reserved and old Sir Harcourt Courtly returns as a surprise.

Mr. Wallack was first class as Dazzle. This superb actor used to act Charles Courtly, but as Dazzle he was superb, and gave much life to the play by his intaitable power. Mr. Montague has been very ill and has of late retired from the stage, and, considering this misfortune, the personation of Charles was one which desorves decided credit. Mr. Beckett, as Mark Meddle, was capital. He was full of fun, and kept the house in a perpetual round of laughter. Mr. Floyd was good as Dolly Spanker and Mr. Holland made an excellent Cool. Miss Effective of the celebrated hunt fell heavily on the character of Lady Gay Spanker, for though this lady has plenty of intelligence she needs inspiration. The description of the ociebrated hunt fell heavily on the public. Miss Dyas is certainly delightful in the ordinary sentimental comedy, yet she is not equal to the robust, intense interest of a popular play. Miss lone Burke gave a performance as Grace Harkaway which we can only describe as charming. But the whole play was capital. It is a pleasure to see a performance of which praise would be superfluous and censure untrue. nest performance of the night. The public has been

The Oratorio Society, under the direction of Dr. Damrosch, gave Schumann's "Paradise and the Peri" last evening at Steinway Hall. It was anything but a satisfactory performance. The work is an eminently stupid one and possesses hardly one feature to recommend it. A worse selection for such a renowned so ciety could scarcely be devised.

Mr. Humphries had a concert at Chickering Hall last alght, in which he was assisted by Miss Henrietta Beebe, soprano; Miss Louise Finch, contraito; Mr. Charles Fritsch, tenor; Mr. H. R. Humphries, tenor; Mr. Adolph Sohst, baritone; Mr. Richard Hoffman, planist; Senor Joseph White, violinist; Mr. S. B. Whiteley, organist.

FINE ARTS.

MR. BELMONT'S GALLERY. The private gallery of August Belmont has for the past few days been opened to the public, for the benefit f the Women's Centennial Union. The fame of the callery and the charitable object for which it was pened sent visitors enough to fill the rooms, and the ew complimentary invitations which were issued served as a solidifying element, making the crowd too lense at times to allow the pictures to be seen at Bouguereau's "Sleeping Twins," two life size babies mitrely nude; an exquisite piece of work in color, frawing, modelling and finish; all in shadow except the outline farthest from the eye, where the artist has touched the edges with bright analysh a dangerous experiment in the most skilful hands, but in this case helping instead of destroying the perspective. Near this is a small landscape by Daubigny, full of the most delicate masses of grayish green. On the opposite side is a picture by Kasiman Johnson, of slitting fir curied up in an old-fashioned rocking chair with her picture book open. Above is Bierstadi's "Burning Ship in the Moonight." Above the Bouguerean is a group of cattle in a meadow by Troyon. There are three of his pictures here, the others being a group of nearly a dozen cattle in a shellow pond, and an old horse and cart on the edge of a stream, with a man leaning from the vehicle to dip up water. By Firmin Girard there is a Japanese interior with several figures. Bellangers is represented by a figure of a trooper in a battle scene. By Andreas Achenbach there are three pictures of marine or coast scenes, one of which contains a large number of figures. A picture representing an sary morning with a hunting parity preparing to start, secupies the centre of this side of the gallery. A large interior, with figures by Geyer, hangs above it. Near by is Meissonier's "Chess Players," two cavaliers about the same size as the Meissonier's acquaired warrant from Judge Bixby, at the Tomba, to search the room panions in a corner hange a Venetian scene by Fromentin, containing many figures, on a caarse about the same size as the Meissonier, haugs above it. Next is Gerome's celebrated "Stave Market," and near this is a sould be above the content with here some panion pictures of one of select with the peasant girl holding a baby sister. One of Willeus's "Chess Players," two cavaliers and the lands of Court Officer Weber. Last evening Detective Mooney and Officer Weber was about the same size as the Meissonie guereau's "Sleeping Twins," two life size babies entirely nude; an exquisite piece of work in color, girl holding a baby sister. One of Willeun's ary pictures represents two cavaliers and a lady looking over a portiono of engravings. By Schreyer there are companion pictures, one representing a team of eight horses, two abreast, da hing through a narrow woodland path; the other is a winter scene, with horses seeking shelter under an old shed. A little picture by Edward Frére is "A Scamsairess." One of De table's small canvases, an officer on horseback, hang near. A large picture by Kraus represents a German wedding procession, tuil of action and humorous from the flock of geese which act as an advance guard to the Irolicsome looys, the emaciated musicians and the merry peasants who tollow. Above this is "Marine," by M. F. H. De Haas, and beside that is a group of cattle by Von Marke. One of J. Beaufain Irring's gems represents two friends drinking champague. One of Horace Vernet's battle pictures, which is a great rarity in this country, represents a scene in the French war in Africa. The canvas is about twenty by thirty inches in size and contains a large number of figures. By Boughton there is a small picture of the white woman, with her canoe and firefly lamp, in the Dismal Swamp. By Bounat there is a httle, forlorn looking Italian girl, and by Jules Dupre a small landscape. In the anteroom is a life size lialian woman and child by Bouguerean, a portrait of Brs. Belmont by J. Beaulain Irving, and a drawing in sepila by Rosa Bonheur of a shepherd and flocks of sheep. There are many other fine pictures in the gallery and several pieces of marble, two being life size female figures, two children and a number of busts, principally family portraits.

**ALE OF THE BLODGETT COLLECTION THIS EVENING.

One of the most important art sales of the season nakes place this evening, at Chekering Hall, Fifth avenne, corner Eighteenth street. Among the Blodgetpictures are the finest works of some of the artists, and it is difficult to procure works of many others, and then at the most enormous prices. Church's "Heart of the Andes," and the paintings by Constable, Gerome, Diaz, Conture, Villegas, Schreyer, Doré, Meissonnier, Troyon, Decamps, Duppe, Rosa Boahour, Pyrol Benhour, Zrém, Frère, Rousseau, Fromentin, Robert Fleury, Bouguereau and Houghton, are works which have in some cases been sought for by several different collectors, who will this evening show the value at which they hold them. The statue of "Semiramis" is a draped figure a little larger than life, representing the ambitious queen seated and crowned, with a full consciousness of hor power expressed in every line of the pose. The sale commences at eight o'clock this evening, with Robert Somerville as auctioneer.

BROOKLYN SCHOOLS.

According to the annual report of the Superintend ent of Public Schools of Brooklyn for the year 1875, just laid before the Board of Education, therty-four cademic classes were taught in twenty-four of the schools. The average attendance at each school was $54, or nearly 25 in each class. During the year 162 pupils graduated. The number of teachers appointed was 162, of which number 95 were graduates of the academic classes. The instruction in drawing is represented as having accomplished such results as to entitle it to all the consideration that has been claimed for it. It has been found to have a beneficial effect upon the writing of the pupils. The establishment of a normal school for the special training of teachers is again urged by the Superintendent. The total enrolment in the evening schools fell off last winter 905, and the average attendance 177 from the preceding year. Seven new school houses were constructed, which have accommodations for 11,000 pupils. The expenditure for these institutions was $533,492. The report says:—"As a consequence of these energetic measures there examel be found a single instance of such unwholesome and pestilential crowding of pupils into apartments until for human occapancy as other cities have been charged with permitting." The schools have 11,300 seats in excess of the registered number of pupils. schools. The average attendance at cach school was

LONG ISLAND TRAGEDIES.

In the Suffolk County Court of Oyer and Terminer, fudge Dyckman presiding, assisted by Justices Capon and Smith, in the Court House at Riverhead, L. I., on and Smith, in the Court House at Riverhead, L. I., on Fuesday, application was made by Mr. Fellows to quash the indictment against Arthur M. Prime for perjury in the Kelley case, and it was so ordered by the Court. The indictment against Royal Santois for murder was ordered for trial at the next term of Court. At the opening of the alternoon session yesterday David Skidmore, Jr., jointly indicted with his prother Carl for arson, in having on the Eith of January last set fire to the dwelling house of his father. David Skidmore, Sr., at Deer Park, David Skidmore, Sr., Pleet Weeks, Wesly Wright and wife pershing in the James, was placed on Irial. Considerable time was consumed in empanelling a jury. At the rising of the Central last evening the jury had not been completed.

TORPEDO EXPLOSION.

Shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon an explosion occurred in the torpedo manufactory of John J. Hapgood, corner 142d street and Eighth avenue, seri-ously injuring two young women, one of whom, it is others. The building is a two story frame and has been occupied as a torpedo manufactory for a number of years. Eighteen persons are employed, the majority being girls from eleven to eighteen years of age. At the time of the explosion the forewoman, Miss Lavinia Blauveit, aged thirty years, was sitting at a beach in the middle of the rear room sepa-rating a quantity of nitrate of silver in crystals into small packages to be portioned out to the em-ployes. Close at hand lay a heap of minute gravel stones. A few rods distance two sisters, Miss Sarah Ann and Mary J. Hickman, aged sixteen and fourteen years, sat engaged in making torpedoes. In another part of the room four or five girls were similarly occupied, the remaining employes being in the front rooms on the same floor. Miss Biauvelt had about haif compieted her task when a terrific report resounded through the building, shaking the structure to its foundation, smashing the windows front and rear, and reling to the floor Miss Blauvelt and the two girls sitting near her. The other girls ran screaming from the room, and in their hurry to get into the street some fell to the floor. Quantities of the gravel used in the torpedoes were hurled by the explosion in every direction, and the walls and ceiling of the rooms were indented in a hundred different places. The screams of the panie-stricken girls as they precipitated themselves through the doors, in their eagerness to reach the street regardless of everything but the one desire to save their lives, magnified the accident, and for a time it was believed that several had been killed. The shock and report had soon collected a crowd of people, and word was quickly sent to the Thirty-second precinct station house. Sergeant Flandreau at once telegraphed for a police surgeon, and Captain Davis hurried to the scene to render all possible assistance. Arrived there he found that, with the exception of Miss Sarah Ann flickman, no person was injured in a manner to cause alarm. A neighboring physician, Dr. Frothingham, had by this time arrived. Miss Hickman was still unconscious, but she soon revived and was removed to her residence, as was also Miss Blauvelt. The injuries to the former were found to be very serious. Her breast was torn in a painful manner by the gravel stones, several of which had penetrated quite deep. Her neck and face were also lacerated, and her recovery is doubtful.

The right hand of Miss Blauvelt was torn and cut so badly that it was found necessary to amputate three of the fingers. A number of the gravel stones had also entered her arms and shoulder.

The loilowing are the names of the other girls injured. None of them were hurt sufficiently to need much treatment:—Mary J. Hickman, aged fourteen, residence; Mary En Donovan, aged thiricen years, flats street and Twelfth avenue; Jane Dunn, fourteen, pleted her task when a terrific report resounded

PENSION OFFICE ROBBERY.

JAMES ROGERS, THE UNITED STATES MARINE INSTRUCTOR, DISCHARGED.

Yesterday James Rogers, who was recently arrest Binghamton, N. Y., to a check for $90 upon the Nassau National Bank, was discharged from custody by Commissioner Winslow. The accused was formerly em-ployed in the office of Pension Agent McLeer as a clerk, and was charged with abstracting the check from clerk, and was charged with abstracting the check from a letter addressed to Mrs. Platt, who is a pensioner. It was also alleged that he signed the name of the lady to the check. After the money was missed Rogers, who is a fine looking man, about thirty years of age, went to Washington, where he joined the United States Marine Corps, and was subsequently transierred as instructor to the United States schoolship Minnesota, at New York. While on duty on that ship he was arrested on complaint of Pension Agent McLeer. The District Attorney failed to prove that the name of Mrs. Platt had been lorged, nor was it shown that Rogers took the check from the letter.

with his pistol, "If you touch those cars I'll fire." On looking round he saw Officer Weber's pistor covering him also, and so he said quickly, "I give up, boys." He was taken to the Leonard street police station and locked up in a cell. He refused to divuige the names of his confederates in the robbery. Clancy has a boat of his own and posses as a respectable boatman. Other arrests will doubtless take place to-day. The cigars in question had just arrived from Havana per City of Vera Cruz, and were going in bond to Baltimore to a large tobacco house there.

THE FULTON BANK ROBBERY.

The counsel for the bondsmen of the defaulting pay ing teller of the Fulton Bank of Brooklyn, B. E. Rogers, yesterday offered to pay over the deficiency Rogers, yesterally offered to pay over the deficiency between the amount taken by the accused and that recovered from him. The total amount taken from the bank by Rogers was $25,000, of which all but $5,352 was recovered by the police and restored to the bank. The bondsmen want to settle by paying $5,352, but the bank officials demand $470 more, to pay for the expenses incurred in recovering the money. The bondsmen object to the latter item, and litigation will probably ensue.

ST. PAUL OF THE CROSS.

M'KEE SENTENCED.

years in the County Jail and to pay a fine of $10,000.

Judge Krum asked a stay of commitment until a petition to Washington asking for a remission of the imprisonment part of the sentence could be heard from,
and the Court granted a stay of two weeks, requiring the defendant to give an additional bond in the sum of $25,000. A stay of two weeks was also granted in the case of Con Maguire.

THE BOSTON FORGER.

A POSSIBILITY THAT HE MAY YET BE SURREN-DERED TO THE MASSACHUSETTS AUTHORITIES-THE BOSTON OFFICERS STILL WAITING FOR HIM.

BOSTON, April 26, 1876. Mr. Fish, Secretary of State, states that he has as yet received no reply from the British government with respect to the note sent to Earl Derby in the Winslow The fact that no reply has been received is British government may yet surrender Winslow, The take no action in the matter until the 2d of May, the time when, under the act of Parliament of 1870, Winif the British government has not surrendered Win-slow, it is probable that the Foreign Affairs Committee will recommend the abrogation of that portion of the Ashburton act which relates to the extradition of all classes of criminals.

of the reason why Winslow has not been extradited has recently been broached here, and is believed by persons high in authority. It is that there is a conflict between the Home and Foreign Office, and that the Foreign Office is exceedingly anxious to surrender Winslow and to preserve the extradition treaty. In Winslow and to preserve the extradition treaty. In confirmation of this theory attention is called to the fact that within the past year or two very serious complications have arisen between the Home and Foreign Office, from which the Foreign Office has with great difficulty extricated the government. It appears that there is a great jealousy between these two branches of the government, both as to jurisdiction and pre-rogative, and that the Home Office is compelled to follow to secure the united action of the government. The present instance is cited as one of them. Secretary Fish thinks Winslow will be extradited. Whatever truth there may be in this theory, it is very certain that Secretary Fish is confident that Great Britain will surrender Winslow, rather than consent to the abrogation of the Ashburton treaty. If this proves to be a fact, the concession will necessarily come from the Foreign Office.

The Boston Chief of Police says that since the message to await further orders has been sent to Officers Dearborn and Wood at London, nothing has been done by the local authorities. The attitude of the British government remains the same with regard to the extradition of the great forger. The Boston detectives are killing time as best they may in the British capital, and know not what a day may bring forth in the way of additional instructions. Mayor Cobb is out of town at present, and probably no further steps will be taken in the matter until the expiration of the sixty days allowed by law for the detention of the British government stands by its determination to enforce the act of Parliament, which requires that the prisoner shall be tried for the offence on which his extradition is demanded—the probability is that the officers will be recalled. The present deadlock between the government does not especially concern the Boston authorities. They have done all their duty in the premises, and "await further orders."

FORGERY AT PROVIDENCE.

ARRAIGNMENT OF FREDERICK H. ANGELL-FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS' WORTH OF PAPER SAID TO BE FORGED. PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 26, 1876.

Frederick H. Angell, of the firm of Falpey, Angell & Co., who was arrested yesterday, as reported in the HERALD, for forgery, was privately arraigned this morning before Judge Randolph on a warrant charging him with forging the name of Stephen A. Knight to a him with forging the name of Stephen A. Knight to a promissory note for $1,500. This note was made last month, was for three months and is signed by Falpey, Angell & Co., with Knight's forged signature on the back. It is reported that his forgeries will amount to $50,000. Certain banks, brokers and parties who are in the habit of discounting hold the greatest part of the forged paper.

The prisoner is only twenty-eight years of age, was universally respected, and was never known to spend money extravagantly. He refuses to see any one at the police station, not even his father-in-law, and he is completely broken down at the terrible disciosure. He belongs to a most respectable family. His firm has been dompelled to make an assignment for the benefit of their creditors. It is untrue that the Providence Institution of Savings holds any of the forged paper. Angell states that the money was used in the firm's business, but this is most positively denied by the other members of the firm. The forgeries are well executed. The persons whose names are forged were not able to detect the forgeries until the original signatures were produced.
